Wed Mar. 31-37 - Left at 9:30 before we got started for Lee's. The cook is planning on pressure canning the meat we kept from the hog we killed Sunday a month ago. We killed a 200 lb hog and a 250 lb sow. The hogs are of the most bizarre shapes and the names here don't register in keeping. Hay stack hills, - they are so steep sided. Just before we got through a short distance, miles & miles of rolling flint, 200 a ton tree killed like a 2½ ton truck loaded with gravel by 7 a.m. or earlier with gravel that loaded for the tunnel. The trucks have racks of slats built up 6 ft or more then miles and miles of sugar cane & every now & then a sugar central of greater or lesser size. (They tell me there are here are two small & reading that the really large mills are over on the south coast.) All dwellings are little pastel gingerbreads, for heating in case, but all had disappeared & we boiled rice & had for dinner. Ours was ready 10 p.m. when we got off for Bath Beach, & arrived at engine all day. Today Wed Mar 3 a brisk & clear warm sunny day. & are we all enjoying it. Shirts & rolling generally are flapping on Driveway. Everybody has been out to see. Between waterspouts Mrs Jung drove me out to St. Andrew's Church, originally built in 1706, re-built & added to in 1723 & after a fire rebuilt again in 1765, now in 1937 with W.P.A. (or P.W.A.) funds in keeping. All kinds of floor repairs because of termite ravages on the way drove along road of grand oaks arching over head & festooned with Spanish moss really a beautiful sight. Was interested to see a tablet mentioned in Chumbo's account of the landing Over here agriculture the land is said to be more fertile, and hardly must everything grows there in the plateau grounds they are trying a little manner of plants + trees with excellent success (the population is recommended here for instance 601 to the acre of tillable land that is doesn't pay to go into humans to any extent, land is too valuable) Just now Chuck sees great possibilities in vanilla cultivation, it is a valuable cash crop + they may be able to work it into the coffee plantation by gradually substituting planting trees between rows of coffee trees, to carry vanilla beans vine + when they are larger cutting out the coffee, meanwhile they are also experimenting with coffee with the idea of getting varieties more productive — they have only what they are called West Indian

A nice lunch, grapefruit, a sort of shepherd's pie, with cheese & potato dishes, apple tart with butter sauce in it (a sort of custard + excellent) Pickled plantain, small stuffed baked tomatoes + sort of Yorkshire pudding small potatoes (sweet ones) iced tea, inside rolls + stuffing bread & butter pudding & little cakes (buns, a spiced bun I believe, + bread + butter) not bad lunch for the occasion, with whipped cream on top. Then we went around the grounds + saw most of the plants mentioned above. They also have developed the cacao, coca, the rubber tree & the tropics. They also are growing various varieties of bamboo & trees to stimulate some native industry here & shop + seed shop with lots of good literature + all kinds of things made of the wood, really wonderful

One thing I forgot, showed Hancock Mrs. or Chandler Sun. morning, we had a semi-private showing for friends of Museum, was called to Orlando to guess. Another thing, after seeing St Andrews church (Episcopal) Mrs Sipp drove me in a bit further along the same road to show me one of the beautiful old places we turned into a regular beauty spot, a beautiful water avenue, Spanish moss decorating oak trees, Spanish moss decorations everywhere, though advised three brick (part) garden around a circular drive to large brick old English style home Drayton Hall, other side of face garden, + river, Gosh I'd like to own a place like that. Island. In the good old days there was a very fine Natural College which has educated the Natives (as it has) & further started & build before the end was built due to which to establish complete & till after there was a big feud with the Kaffir settlements. He then went & got the Botanical Garden started & in its direction & thereafter plants moved are 600 plants from the Government Garden for the garden about Kirsan Dane & all the thing from various places in the world to augment his collection. He went to see him because he had a large fresh water shark, bitten in his hand, & as I stated he offered it to me. As I thought it was a hammerhead shark and a good large one but not as large as my Blacktail shark & not as large as everybody had been telling from both sides & Sanders Gen. Secretary of Cultivation & Public Works came from the Library. Dr. Sinclair took to the Library met a couple of sailors captains had a couple of drinks & from the upstairs the Ladies & Mrs Lyd had returned & were waiting around for dinner to go aboard. She brought up 4 deck chairs, which we did not have 2 easy chairs for the saloon & had a Mr. Carr Island collector, Flynn with Mrs Flynn & a couple of electric fans, & the Tolerances of which made the Cape, Boko Island one. After dinner we were sitting around on deck when a boat load of Kaffirs & Zulus with long hair, bare legged & bare chested & with all kinds of weapons in their hands came to the ship's side. Mr. Sanders & German & Mrs Thomas went down to the boat to see The Saddle from the ship, steps winding up round round the hill to with a powder either side from a distance looking like the great wall of China. We put ashore with the ship's on coming had been noticed a quite a number of people assembled including the harbour master + the local police officer. well dressed people come hurrying down the steps, but it was too late to get to the boat. It was just to get up & down the volcanic (peaks) island. I had gathered from the talk of the people in Salvador while I had the first flood we saw that all Black & there are great many blacks on the island of Pepe. We have about 12 children per family, the white 2-3, as with their lower standards of living, they can get along on less & feed less on homes, furniture, food & clothing the white people will be a mere matter of time before they crowd the whites off the island.

The beaches here about are like those of Juan Fernandez, huge rounded boulders mostly of lava & immense size. Near the landing a little cove has been constructed by rolling the boulders from side & making place for a sort of single file for people to go to the boat & land. The surf is pretty bad here Saturday, March 20, 1937. Left Manila at noon yesterday with engines & gear & hundreds of boys & girls to see us off. Many of the boys & girls were crying as the launch left the wharf. I had a few friends up to the last minute & got a few cablegrams & telegrams from friends & relatives in the States & we are under way for Singapore.

This morning we passed a ship near us with the electric lights in the rigging & on the masts & yards, as well as all colored lights which are used at night or at the gangways & on deck necessary for the purpose. Last night we passed a large ship with a row of lights on the mast & yards & on deck, which looked like a row of lights on a Ferris wheel. Monday — we got ashore about 8 30 and were met by a group of men & boys who introduced themselves & invited us up. We had bottles & cameras & also we went up the steps & slopes quite a Pull of 20 min & Ralph was with us. It seemed, steps & steep crooked slopes up which the native such as had horses rode either on or by donkeys. Really wonderful to realize such horses going up & down these steep steps. April 13 Sunday 1937 continued.
Hey! we passed St Christopher (St Kitts) a beautiful green cultivated place, the mountains are a crushed ridge that slope down to the sea and so are very all the fields of green cane on top as they land has shone to the height behind. as beautiful green (due to the fertile significance) as the island is, there are many old at 6.00 breakfast from 6.30 + ashore at 7.00 about at was about 7.30 when we got started by car, which took us as far as the ruins of Christ's palace San Simon, really a monastery Lay and the ruins all ruins covered a great deal of ground and must have been a fine place. The ruins garden and behind is now a banana plantation (more likely unorganized as the plantations go in the country) but the ruins with its terraces can still be traced. The ruins do not look been a palace equal to any in the world

Even so the girl didn't know what a trade register was. I offered her a drink she said that he didn't care for me. She said I'd like to buy me an American cigarette, I accepted. Bon, I thank you kindly I work for the Customs Service. Later.

soldiers is encouraged due to the authority exercised freely like I am told by the Force Publique. There is a great respect for Belgian rule and order of the people towards freedom, the majority prefer to go as they are all exceptions contradict me. But vocations may arise that case I should like to be published and in the future or would eventually come home to the UK or Belgium and settle down. Recently there was a dust between the Ou Speed and the municipal authorities of police in which one of the police killed a native in defence of the Land Rover permit holder of an old regime political party. Since the Speed Record and the party label must have struck many of the native, as there was a killing of a native
